

A photograph showing two hands, one from a person with lighter skin and one from a person with darker skin, passing a stream of red sand from the top hand to the bottom hand. The background is a blurred natural setting with trees and a blue sky.

Culturally Secure AOD Practice – Featuring IRIS

WHERE: The Calamvale Hotel,
678 Compton Road
Calamvale QLD 4116

WHEN: 21st June 2019

TIME: 09:00am – 04:30pm

This updated 1-day workshop aims to build cultural capacity when working with Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander people who use substances. Designed for both Indigenous and non-Indigenous workers alike, the course promotes a culturally-secure AOD framework and approach to direct practice.

Participants will learn how to use the Indigenous Risk Impact Screen (IRIS) and associated brief intervention tools alongside other practical tips, tricks, tools and resources for use in everyday practice.

Image: The hands passing sand represents the sharing of knowledge.

Bookings are essential. To register for this workshop, please go to:

<https://insight.qld.edu.au/training/20190621PHN/detail>

This workshop is proudly supported by Brisbane South PHN.

Alcohol and other drug training and workforce development Queensland

Insight: Centre for Alcohol and other Drug Training and Workforce Development
Metro North Mental Health – Alcohol and Drug Services

Biala | Floor 4 | 270 Roma Street Brisbane QLD 4001

Ph: (07) 3837 5655

Insight@health.qld.gov.au

www.insight.qld.edu.au